

Data protection

CAS Software AG aims to respect and protect your privacy. We have generally designed www.cas.de so that you can visit the Web site without being personally identifiable and without any personal information about you being disclosed. If you decide to disclose personal information to us, we undertake to treat it with great care.

Personal data

The term 'personal data' refers to items of information that indicate the identity or private matters of an individual. It includes the person's correct name, address, telephone number and e-mail address. Based on the above definition, it does not include information that does not indicate the identity or private matters of an individual, such as the number of visitors to a Web site.

Gathering and use of personal data

The information provided by CAS Software AG is normally freely accessible. Personal registration is not required. Personal information is gathered where necessary in order to perform relevant services. This is the case, for example, if you subscribe online to the CAS@WORK customer magazine, or if you request information material or obtain test software. We only use your personal data to enable us to provide you with the services you request.

Disclosure of data

CAS Software AG will treat your personal data in strict confidence, and as a matter of principle will not disclose it to third parties (except for partners of the CAS Group).

Consent

When you disclose your personal data to us, you thereby give your consent for us to store and use it within the constraints of the German Federal Data Protection Act (Bundesdatenschutzgesetz). The personal information you provide is accessible only to CAS Software AG and to its partners where appropriate. You can cancel your subscription to our customer magazine and e-mail newsletter, or withdraw your consent for us to store and use your personal data, at any time.

Changes to this statement

CAS Software AG reserves the right to change this Data Protection Statement at any time within the constraints of the applicable law.

Usage statistics

In order to improve our website, we collect statistical data on its use. For this we use the services of etracker, econda and Google Analytics. In addition cookies and/or Javascript may be used. A usage profile is created from this data under a pseudonym. The data are only collected and stored in pseudonym form. The data are not used to identify visitors to the website personally and are not collated with data on the holder of the pseudonym. This ensures that there is no link to the above protocol or user profile.

Google requires us to publish the following statement

This website uses Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google, Inc. ("Google"). Google Analytics uses "cookies", which are text files placed on your computer, to help the website analyze how users use the site. The information generated by the cookie about your use of the website (including your IP address) will be transmitted to and stored by Google on servers in the United States. Google will use this information for the purpose of evaluating your use of the website, compiling reports on website activity for website operators and providing other services relating to website activity and internet usage. Google may also transfer this information to third parties where required to do so by law, or where such third parties process the information on Google's behalf. Google will not associate your IP address with any other data held by Google. You may refuse the use of cookies by selecting the appropriate settings on your browser, however please note that if you do this you may not be able to use the full functionality of this website. By using this website, you consent to the processing of data about you by Google in the manner and for the purposes set out above.

If you wish to prevent your access to the CAS Software website being evaluated by one of these services, you can stop cookies being deposited and/or JavaScript operating by selecting the appropriate settings on your browser.
